THE PRODUCT

This wireless system consists of two units: one scanner box mounted in the bucket of your loader, and a Top Scale indicator mounted on your mixer.

The NIR scans the material that is in the bucket and sends the actual dry matter content of that feed to the Top Scale.

The Top Scale compares the amount of dry matter with the theoretic percentage of dry matters programmed for this component and recalculates the amount of feed to be loaded to match it.

With this system, your cows get the precise amount of feed (in dry matter) that your nutritionist has determined.

ADVANTAGES:

- Convenience: ability to execute the NIR analysis directly on the farm during the loading of the ingredients
- Immediate result: day by day control of the parameters of your ingredients
- Efficiency: real time and continuous analysis equates with major improvements in feed efficiency
- Benefits: automatic weight correction equates with more production, better milk quality, significant herd health benefits resulting in improved profits for the producer
